

Jesus Zarate

Spring 2016

CS 6300 Artificial intelligence

Self Analysis

5.1 What was the hardest part of the assignment for you?

The hardest part for me was getting used to the indentation in python because this is my first time using python.

5.2 What was the easiest part of the assignment for you?

The easiest part was the actual programming.

5.3 What problem(s) helped further your understanding of the course material?

Every problem helped my understanding. They were very easy problems, which made it very easy to get used to python.

5.4 Did you feel any problems were tedious and not helpful to your understanding of the material?

No, they were all helpful!

5.5 What other feedback do you have about this homework?

Not much besides it being a very good homework to get started!